

The Teacher Education Institute

Provided by the University of the Middle East Project

Boston, USA

July 2007

ARE YOU A SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHER?

ARE YOU PROFICIENT IN ENGLISH?

ARE YOU LOOKING TO CHALLENGE YOURSELF?

The Teacher Education Institute (TEI) is a four-week teacher-training and cultural exchange program for secondary school teachers. TEI courses are taught in English by professors from prestigious institutions worldwide on the beautiful campus of a top university in the United States.

- Learn Innovative Teaching Techniques
- Enhance Your Teacher-Student Relationships
- Explore the Role of Education in the Community
- Improve Negotiating Skills
- Scholarships are available based on income

“ The UME program was more than education. It was also a meeting of the minds. Its intensity and depth brought out the best in my colleagues and me.”

A combination of lectures, discussion sessions, workshops and field trips immerses participants in a variety of innovative teaching methodologies. The TEI allows participants to learn about new and creative pedagogical tools for practical application to secondary school classrooms. Our DEADLINE for applications is January 5, 2007. Apply now!!

The University of the Middle East
Project

You may call or email us for more information
Please visit our website to apply

66 CHURCH STREET
CAMBRIDGE, MA 02138 USA

PHONE: 1.617.876.6361 | TEIQUESTIONS@UME.ORG
WWW.UME.ORG